

TOM MARSHALL OUR GOVERNOR

But We Are Proud of the Fact That
We are Most Heartily
Sorry.

WATSON'S FRIENDS ARE LOYAL

The Local County Option Agitation Proved to be Unpopular With the Majority.

Thomas R. Marshall is OUR governor. We who live here in Rush county have grown to know, admire and hope for James E. Watson, and to be a living part of his very ambition; to us, his defeat is a pang that strikes deep down in our hearts. But we are Americans; we are loyal sons of Indiana, and bravely as we can, we acknowledge defeat and bow and acquiesce to majority rule.

The election of Marshall closes a memorable campaign. The epigram, "Defeated, but not Dishonored," fits admirably to the present defeat. The Republicans lost the battle in defense of a great moral issue. Can we conscientiously feel one iota of remorse or regret in championing a right but losing cause? Eliminate the temperance issue from the campaign and the county option measure from the shoulders of the Republicans and Indiana would have been found breezing in the stretch along with Ohio, New York and other States with big round Republican majorities. The State, of course, is conceded normally Republican. Victory would today be perched upon our banners if the temperance agitation had not come into our political lives; but it came. It was the sentiment of the times and the expressed wish of the greater minds and leaders that it would become a part of the Republican party's duty to take up the question and make a final disposition of it. That desire became a reality when an extraordinary session of the legislature passed a county option bill by a narrow margin after a fight that will remain a brilliant page in our party's history.

But seemingly, it has proven our undoing. That is to say, Watson's defeat can be attributed to that and that alone. Never was there a man so bitterly opposed and fought; any faction wage such an unprincipled and unfair battle as did the brewers against Watson and the Republican legislative ticket. And the wonder of it all, in the face of the fact that they fought openly, is that the good people of this State did not rise up in unison and rebuke them and their efforts.

Watson was sacrificed on the altar of a righteous cause. But crushed to earth, under such circumstances, he will rise from the ashes of defeat a grander and nobler individual, towering over his adversaries and the cause they represented, like a giant.

Strength that should have come to him in his battle against uneven odds did not come; there are some of us with political affiliations who worship at a shrine with blind faith. We know not our own mind and in our stubbornness of a single and uncompromising purpose, lend our strength to the enemy by not joining ranks with a party that stands for things dear to us; a flimsy sentiment swaying our better judgment. We mean here the Prohibitionists and temperance Democrats.

But why recount the "ifs" and "ands?" Right and justice never die. And as for Watson—well, "Jim" is a young man yet.

It is said that the first public school for the blind was established in Paris in 1784.

COUNTY OPTION NOT POPULAR

Prohis and Temperance Democrats
Against it—Republicans Oppose It—The Labor Vote.

James E. Watson was seen at his home in North Morgan street today by a representative of this paper, surrounded by some of his friends. No one entering that domicile would ever dream that there was a defeated candidate in the company.

Good cheer and happiness reigned and smiles and laughter were seen and heard on all sides. If some of Watson's loyal friends, who today were the pictures of despair, could have seen him, it would have at least lifted part of the heavy load off their hearts.

Mr. Watson was elated with the big vote tendered him by his neighbors and friends in Rush county, and expressed his deepest gratitude for their hearty support.

"Are you satisfied with your campaign?" was asked Mr. Watson, and he promptly replied: "I am entirely satisfied with my campaign. I made more speeches than any other man that ever run for Governor in this State, and my defeat is not due to any lack of effort on my part."

"To what do you attribute your defeat?" he was asked.

"Wholly on the question of local option. The liquor Republicans were more in favor of liquor than they were in favor of their party. The temperance Democrats, on the other hand, were Democrats before they were temperance people. The great majority of Prohibitionists care nothing about temperance, their only object being to defeat the Republican party, and they voted their ticket. Some temperance Democrats voted for me, and those Prohibitionists who really cared anything about temperance voted in the same way. The majority of the people, however, have said at the ballot boxes that they were not in favor of county local option, and on that question I was beaten."

"Did you apprehend defeat at any time previous to the election?"

In answer to this Mr. Watson said: "I can truthfully state that up to within three weeks ago I never once entertained the idea that I could be elected. I told Senator Hemenway and State Chairman Goodrich many times that I was beaten though I made as game a fight as I could possibly make solely from the standpoint of duty and because I intended to discharge my obligations to my party. Three weeks ago the currents set in our way, and the last week of the campaign I became hopeful of success, though I was never satisfied that I would be chosen. I told my wife on Sunday before the election that it was a turn of the hand and I really felt that way about it, though I knew that our gains had been material for the two weeks preceding that day."

"How do you feel over your defeat?"

"Well," Mr. Watson replied, "I am a philosopher, and I am never unduly elated by success or unduly depressed by defeat. The first race I ever made was for the nomination of Secretary of State, and I was beaten in the convention in the spring of 1894. I was nominated and elected to Congress that fall, but in 1896 I was beaten for re-nomination to Congress, so I have twice before this time tasted the sorrows of defeat. I am conscious of the fact that I did the best I could throughout my campaign and I have no regrets whatever to express. I fought out my proposition straight from the shoulder in every section of the State. I had magnificent audiences everywhere and most cordial and enthusiastic receptions. If I had the power to change any single day in the entire campaign, I would not consent to such a change."

"What effect did the labor vote have in your defeat?" he was asked.

"Very little," Mr. Watson replied. "You will remember that in the State convention I received the practically solid vote of Vanderburg, Vigo, Tippecanoe, Delaware, Madison, Howard and Grant counties. These counties were all strong labor centers, and yet they practically nominated me. Since the local option plank was adopted these are the very counties that turned against me, so that it was not a personal matter but a political matter, and not a question of labor, but a question of liquor. In many instances the very men who went to the convention to nominate me turned against me after the nomination and helped to compass my defeat. Except as the brewers could use some labor leaders and a few organizations, the labor question cut but little figure in my defeat. Take for instance, Marion county. Taft carried it by well night 1000 while I

PLUCK FLOWER OF THE FROST

The Day After—the Day of Reckoning, and the Counting of Ballots.

OUR FRIENDS THE ENEMY WEEP

Shining Confidence of the Campaign
Managers is all That They Enjoyed.

Here we are the morning after a great Presidential election. Many candidates awoke bright and early to learn that in politics things aren't always what they seem. There probably never yet was a candidate who didn't secretly entertain down deep in his soul the hope of being elected. He may have entered the race with the full knowledge of the terrific handicap he had to overcome, but after mixing it up a little bit and receiving assurance from "headquarters" that it "is looking mighty good," coupled with personal promises from many an uncertain voter that "my ballot will be counted for you all right I can tell you," the atmosphere changed and a rainbow of promise tinted the sky.

But for advance cock-sureness, the candidate is a gloomy blank compared with the shining confidence of the campaign manager. He is the chap who must professionally look on the bright side. He jollies the faint-hearted and cheers up the halting soul. Not in glittering generalities does he deal. He has the figures to back up his statements and opinions. He knows what has happened in every precinct in the district since the first glimmer of political history. He sees a repetition of conditions now that prevailed in the former campaign when the enemy, resting easily on the oars of confidence, found on the morning after the election that their calculations had been capsize.

On the eve of an election with the manager, it is all over but the shouting. He calmly informs the reporters that the ticket is elected from top to bottom by such majority as happens to suit his fancy.

In the great hurrah that follows, little attention is paid to the frantic guesses of the chairman who didn't call the turn. Sometimes a weak explanation is offered, but the public demands no explanation and pays no heed to such as is offered. It's all a part of the game to claim everything in sight. A chairman who would admit the probability of defeat or intimate the certainty of defeat would be a subject of infinite scorn.

The accuracy of all elections is established by the ballots. Let us have our illusions while the hour of uncertainty ticks. And the day after—the flower of the frost.

WORTHINGTON PUT IN JAIL.

Thomas Worthington called out the fire department this morning about 6 o'clock, just to see them make the run. Officer Pea placed him in jail for fear he would harm some one.

A union station representing an expenditure of $31,000,000 is nearing completion in Leipsic, Germany, which will be among the largest in the world.

TAFT AND SHERMAN ARE ELECTED.

Republicans Carry New York,
Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and New Jersey.

New York, Nov. 4.—The next president of the United States will be William Howard Taft, Republican, of Ohio. The next vice president will be James Schoolcraft Sherman, Republican, of New York.

This is the verdict returned by the majority of the 15,000,000 voters of the United States. The Republican candidate has repeated Mr. Roosevelt's feat of carrying every northern state, giving him a clear majority in the electoral college of 113 over William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic candidate. Mr. Taft will receive 303 electoral votes to Mr. Bryan's 180. The latter also lost West Virginia, which went to Mr. Roosevelt four years ago, but has gained the one electoral vote which Maryland gave to the Republican candidate in 1900. Oklahoma, the state created since the last presidential election, has enrolled itself, as expected, in the Democratic column.

The states considered doubtful before the election have gone as follows: Maryland, Democratic; Indiana, Republican; Nebraska, Democratic; New York, Republican; Ohio, Republican, and West Virginia, Democratic. In most of these states the vote is close, especially in New York, where Charles Evans Hughes, Republican, has been re-elected governor by 54,000 votes. Taft has carried the state by 100,000.

Results in the East.

Pennsylvania has gone Republican by 250,000 majority and New Jersey by 75,000, the figures in 1904 being 505,519 and 80,598 respectively. Connecticut is Republican save in a few cities and towns, but Congressman George L. Lilley, the Republican candidate for governor, ran behind Mr. Taft.

The lower house of the Sixty-first congress will be Republican by about its old majority. The senate will remain Republican. Speaker Cannon has won his fight for re-election by his usual majority.

Most of the great cities of the country have gone Republican, with the exception of New York and Chicago. In each of these cases, however, the rural Republican majority has been sufficiently large to offset the Democratic urban vote. St. Louis has gone Republican, while the rest of Missouri is heavily Democratic.

Central States for Taft.

Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, the great central states, with an aggregate of sixty-five electoral votes, have gone Republican despite the fight made to bring them into the Democratic column. Governor Deneen in Illinois, Republican candidate for re-election, retained his seat, but Thomas R. Marshall, a Democrat, will succeed Hanly in Indiana, and Harmon, Democrat will succeed Harris in Ohio.

The Republican hope of carrying Kentucky proved vain in spite of the victory of Wilson, Republican, in the gubernatorial contest last year. The greater part of the state's congressional delegation will be Democrats.

The Pacific coast states, California, Washington and Oregon, have given their votes to the Republican candidate, but Nevada, which voted against Parker in 1904, gave its votes this year to Bryan. Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota are again Republican, but Governor Johnson's personal popularity has sufficed to seat him again in the gubernatorial chair of the North Star state. Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and in fact the entire West and Northwest are Republican, but, as noted above, by lowered majorities.

The South Still Solid.

The "solid South" is still solidly Democratic. Mr. Bryan polling the usual large majorities. Only in Maryland has the Republican party made serious inroads on the Democratic vote, and in that state not sufficiently to change the result. Delaware, about which some doubt was expressed before the election, has gone Republican. The New England states have gone for Taft and have elected Republican governors, but the vote in Rhode Island, where the Democrats made a strong fight, is very close. In Massachusetts the Independence party candidate for governor made a good showing, though running far behind the vote of Thomas L. Higin last year.

New York city has been carried by Taft, the first time the Republicans have carried the greater city since 1896.

PENNSYLVANIA IS REPUBLICAN

Party's Vote Cut Down in Cities Where Labor Element Is Strong.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—Pennsylvania has gone Republican by a majority of 250,000. In 1904 Roosevelt carried the state by 505,519, and two years ago Stuart, Republican, was elected governor by 48,435. This city, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Altoona and other cities have given Mr. Taft pluralities, but Scranton, Wilkesbarre and towns in which the so-called "labor" vote is strong have gone Democratic.

The election in Pennsylvania turned almost entirely an national issues, the highest state officer voted for being a judge of the superior court. For that office William D. Porter, Republican, has been elected by a majority of about 50,000 over Webster Grim, Democrat.

The vote in the country districts was, as usual, heavily Republican. The state's representation will again be Republican in the Sixty-first congress, the Democrats having gained only one seat. The figures will be as follows: Republicans, 24; Democrats, 8.

BYRAN CARRIES HOME STATE

Democrats Win in Nebraska by Small Majority.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—Nebraska has gratified the hopes of William Jennings Bryan by going Democratic.

Governor George L. Sheldon, Republican, has been re-elected by a majority of 10,000. The personal popularity of Mr. Bryan in his home state and of Mr. Sheldon accounts for the difference between the governor's vote and that of Mr. Taft. The state's present congressional delegation, five Republicans and one Democrat, stands.

Bryan Silent on Election.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—"I do not desire to discuss the result of the election at the present time," said Mr. Bryan after the returns were received here. "At a later date I shall probably have something to say, but now I must beg to be excused." The Democratic candidate's own city gave Mr. Bryan a majority.

CONNECTICUT FOR TAFT

Carries State, but by Greatly Reduced Majority.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 4.—Despite the efforts made to place Connecticut in the Democratic column, the state has given its vote to the Republican candidate. Mr. Taft's majority, however, fell far below that of Mr. Roosevelt four years ago. Congressman Lilley has been elected governor by 5,000, despite the opposition to him on account of the submarine boat matter and the opposition to him in his own party. Five Republican congressmen have been elected, and the state legislature will be Republican.

The leaders of both parties in the state expressed great interest in the growth of the Socialist vote, which increased from 2,932 in 1906 to 5,250 this year.

Close Vote in Colorado.

Denver, Nov. 4.—Colorado, which gave Mr. Roosevelt a majority of 34,582 in 1904, has again gone Republican, but by less than 5,000. Jesse F. McDonald has been elected governor, and three Republican representatives have been chosen.

North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—The Democratic national ticket has carried North Carolina by a majority of 30,000, the Republican ticket making gains throughout the state. W. W. Kitchin has been elected governor.

NEW ENGLAND REPUBLICAN

Taft Successful in Massachusetts and Other Eastern States.

Boston, Nov. 4.—This city, together with the rest of Massachusetts, has gone Republican, giving Mr. Taft sixteen electoral votes. The plurality of the Republican candidate is 84,361 over Mr. Bryan, but the votes of the two minor candidates, added to those of the Prohibition and Socialist Labor nominees, were large enough to deprive the Republican party of a majority of the votes in this state.

New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 4.—New Hampshire gave Mr. Taft almost as large a vote as it did Mr. Roosevelt four years ago. The balloting resulted in a majority of about 20,000 for the Republican candidate, which is a slight decrease since the last presidential election. Henry B. Quinby, Republican, has been elected governor.

Maine.

Portland, Me., Nov. 4.—Maine has returned its usual large majority for the Republican candidate, although Mr. Taft's vote did not reach the 36,791 majority polled by Mr. Roosevelt in 1904. The vote is as follows: Taft, 67,203; Bryan, 35,725. No state election was held, as Maine chose a Republican governor and Republican congressmen in September.

Rhode Island.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 4.—Rhode Island's four electoral votes will be cast for William H. Taft. Aram J. Pothier, Republican, of Woonsocket, has been elected governor.

Vermont.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 4.—Vermont has gone Republican by 28,000 a falling off of 2,682 since 1904. There was no state election.

PACIFIC COAST FOR TAFT

Republicans Win in California, Oregon and Washington.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—There was no state election in California to complicate the issues, and the Republican national ticket carried the state by about 40,000 majority. In 1904 Roosevelt carried the state by 115,822 over Parker. The solid Republican delegation has been re-elected without change, and a Republican state legislature insures the election of a Republican to succeed Senator Perkins. The proposition to remove the state capital from Sacramento to Berkeley has been rejected.

Washington.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4.—Washington's five electoral votes will be cast for Taft, the Republican candidate having carried this state by a popular majority of 30,000, reducing Mr. Roosevelt's majority in 1904 by 43,442. Samuel C. Cosgrove, Republican, has been elected governor, and the state legislature will remain Republican by a large majority.

West Virginia Carried by Taft.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 4.—West Virginia, classed as a doubtful state before the election, has voted for Taft, but as a result of the split in the Republican ranks, Louis Bennett, Democrat, for governor, and the entire Democratic state ticket has been elected.

Michigan for Taft.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—Both sections of this divided state have gone Republican, the total plurality for Mr. Taft being about 100,000, a Republican loss of more than 100,000 since 1904. Governor Fred M. Warner, Republican, will retain his seat.

A Two-Vote Precinct.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 4.—The first complete precinct returned in California was received from North Coronado Island precinct. There are two voters in this precinct, and their vote was for president, Taft, 2; for congress, Smith (Rep.), 2.

North Dakota Republican.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 4.—North Dakota has gone Republican, giving Mr. Taft a substantial plurality, though indicating a Republican falling off since the last presidential election.

Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Returns from all parts of the state indicate that Taft has a large majority. There was no state election.

Louisiana.

New Orleans, Nov. 4.—As usual, Louisiana is solidly Democratic by a very large majority. There was no gubernatorial election.

Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 4.—Mississippi's ten electoral vote will go, as usual, to the Democratic candidate. There was no state election.

Bryan Loses in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 4.—Mr. Bryan has lost Utah, and William Spry, Republican, has been elected governor by a small majority.

Montana Goes for Bryan.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 4.—The three electoral votes of this state will be cast for Bryan.

Carried His Own Precinct.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—Bryan carried his precinct 106 to 52 for Taft.

NEW YORK FOR TAFT AND HUGHES

Republican National and State Tickets Win.

TAFT CARRIES THE BIG CITY

Metropolis Gives Its Vote to Republican Presidential Candidate for the First Time Since McKinley Carried It in 1896.—Buffalo Has Gone Democratic, but Other Cities Are Republican.—Next Legislature Will Be Republican.—Governor Hughes Expresses Gratification at Result of Election.

New York, Nov. 4.—As the result of Tuesday's election New York state's thirty-nine electoral votes will be cast for William H. Taft and James S. Sherman. Both the Republican national and state tickets are victorious, Chas. E. Hughes being re-elected governor.

Greater New York has gone Republican for the first time since 1896. Reports from all parts of the state indicate that the vote was heavy, the efforts of both gubernatorial candidates to bring out the ballots being rewarded with success. Both the old parties polled full votes, their strength not being seriously affected by the Independence, Socialist and other minor parties. Shearn, Independence party candidate for governor, ran ahead of Wanhope, the Socialist nominee.

Governor Hughes came down to the city from up-state with an indicated plurality of about 121,000. Chanler's plurality south of High Bridge was approximately 68,000. The vote of two years ago was increased by about 150,000; Chanler surprised the Democratic leaders by an unexpectedly large vote in the rural districts, but lost tremendously in the city of Greater New York, where his followers had expected at least 100,000 plurality.

THE SOUTH STILL SOLID

Usual Democratic Majorities Returned in Dixie.

St. Louis, Nev. 4.—Missouri has reversed the Republican victory of 1904 and is again in the Democratic ranks by a majority of 30,000. St. Louis went Republican by a small majority. William S. Cowherd has been elected governor.

Maryland.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—Maryland's split electoral vote of four years ago, seven Democratic and one Republican, is this year solidly Democratic. The election is close, Mr. Bryan's plurality being about 5,000. The Democrats have gained one congressman. The state delegation in the Sixty-first congress will contain four Democratic representatives and two Republicans. This city has gone Democratic by a close vote.

Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—Georgia's thirteen electoral votes will be cast for William J. Bryan, and the state's representation will continue solidly Democratic. The state election was held in September. The Taft vote in this state fell considerably below that of Mr. Roosevelt, which was 24,003.

Texas.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 4.—William H. Taft did not make as good a showing in this state as President Roosevelt, who polled 51,242 votes in 1904. The vote this year is approximately as follows: Bryan, 220,000; Taft, 20,000. Thomas M. Campbell, Democrat, has been re-elected governor.

Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—The Old Dominion is still safely within the Democratic ranks by a majority of about 17,000, but lost one Republican congressman. Taft polled only 30,000 votes in a total of 130,000, a Republican loss of 17,880 since 1904.

South Carolina.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 4.—The Republican party polled only 2,000 of the 58,000 votes in this state, running slightly behind the figures of four years ago. M. F. Ansel has been re-elected governor without opposition.

Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 4.—Albert W. Gilchrist, Democrat, has been elected governor of Florida, and the Democratic national ticket has carried the state by a majority of about 25,000.

Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 4.—Bryan has carried Arkansas by a reduced majority, as a result of a heavy negro vote throughout the state. All Democratic congressmen were elected.

Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 4.—Bryan, 90,000; Taft, 13,000, are the election figures in this state. Mr. Taft polled 9,472 fewer votes than Mr. Roosevelt did in 1904.

Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Tennessee is still strongly Democratic by a majority of 80,000. The Republican vote of 1904 was greatly reduced.

OHIO SPLITS HER VOTE

While Taft Carries Home State, Democrat Was Elected Governor.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—With probably the heaviest vote in the history of the state, Judge Taft's native state Tuesday gave him a slightly more than normal Republican plurality, but at the same time a Democrat was apparently elected to the position of chief executive of the state. The two winners are residents of this city, and in Hamilton county they received strong support. The indications are that the plurality for Taft in the state will be from 50,000 to 60,000 thousand, while that for Harmon will be only 5,000 or 6,000. Even these figures, however, may be changed by later returns, although the general fact of Harmon's victory seems settled.

ILLINOIS FOR TAFT

The Usual Republican Majority Returned in That State.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Illinois has been carried by the Republican party by a plurality of 150,000, giving the state's twenty-seven electoral votes to Taft and Sherman. The state Republican ticket has also been successful, Governor Charles S. Deneen winning from former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, by a plurality of about 100,000, and Cook county gave a plurality to Taft of 50,000 against 126,000 for Roosevelt four years ago. Outside of Cook county the plurality for Taft is not far from 120,000. The plurality of President Roosevelt in 1904 was 304,939 for the state.

Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for governor, carried the city of Chicago by about 8,000 and the county of Cook by about 6,000. He lost heavily, however, in the state outside of Cook county.

The next state legislature will be Republican by a strong majority on joint ballot. This means the re-election to the United States senate of Albert J. Hopkins. Speaker Cannon has been re-elected in the Eighteenth district by a majority of about 7,000.

The voters of the state have endorsed the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the state to issue bonds of $20,000,000 for the construction of a deep waterway beginning at or near Lockport, Ill., to a point at or near Ucity, Ill., in the Illinois river.

Republicans Carry New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—William H. Taft swept the state, being made the choice for the presidency of 80,000 more voters than approved of Mr. Bryan's candidacy. Seven of the ten congressmen chosen are Republicans and the Republicans will control both houses of the state legislature by even greater majorities than last year. In Essex county Everett Colby has been re-elected to the state senate. He appears to have carried his county ticket through with him.

Taft and Johnson in Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—Governor John A. Johnson's efforts in behalf of the Democratic national ticket have not succeeded in giving the electoral vote of the state to Mr. Bryan, but have availed in re-electing him by a small majority. Of the state's 275,000 votes Mr. Taft polled 172,500, his majority being 90,000 below Mr. Roosevelt's majority of 161,464 in 1904. Governor Johnson's majority of 76,633 two years ago was reduced to 30,004 this year.

Gore Will Be Returned.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 4.—Bryan's lead is estimated at only 25,000. The five members of congress, four Democrats and one Republican, have been re-elected. The legislature is two-thirds Democratic, insuring the re-election of United States Senator Thos. P. Gore. The only state officers chosen were Corporation Commissioner A. P. Watson and Justice of the Supreme Court S. W. Hayes, both Democrats.

Kansas Still Republican.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 4.—Kansas is again in the Republican column this year. Mr. Taft's majority in the state is 25,000, 100,000 less than Mr. Roosevelt's majority in 1904. Walter R. Stubbs, Republican, has been elected governor.

Taft Wins in South Dakota.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 4.—This state has been carried by Taft by a plurality estimated at 25,000. In 1904 Mr. Roosevelt received a plurality of 50,114. Robert S. Vessey, Republican candidate for governor, has been elected.

Delaware Goes Republican.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 4.—Delaware considered doubtful before the election, has gone Republican, giving three electoral votes to Taft. Simeon S. Pennewill, Republican, will be the new governor.

Wyoming Republican.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 4.—This state's three electoral votes will be cast for William H. Taft, but his popular majority is considerably below that of Mr. Roosevelt.

Montana Goes for Taft.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 4.—The three electoral votes of this state will be cast for Taft. Edward Donlan, Republican, has been elected governor.

G. O. P. Wins in Idaho.

Boise, Ida., Nov. 4.—Idaho has gone Republican on both state and national issues. James H. Brady has been elected governor.

SOUGHT RELIEF BY MISDEMEANOR

Porto Rican In Hard Luck Wanted Prison Fare.

HE CHALLENGED UNCLE SAM

J. Melendez, Who Gave Way to a Feeling That Things Were Going Against Him and Desiring to Secure Comfortable Quarters for the Winter, Deliberately Placed Canceled Postage Stamps on Dummy Letter That He Might Come Into Criminal Conflict With the Federal Government.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—J. Melendez of this city, formerly of Porto Rico, deliberately put canceled stamps on letters he mailed in this city that he might be arrested by the federal authorities and cared for, according to a story he told, through an interpreter.

On the envelopes that were mailed there was written a "return card" about as large as the address, bearing the name of Melendez and his address in this city. The stamps were plainly canceled. One of the stamps had been placed in the center of the envelope as though to attract greater attention, and one of the envelopes bearing a canceled stamp, in the opposite corner, was affixed a foreign canceled stamp. Melendez was notified to appear before Postoffice Inspector W. T. Fletcher, and lost no time in appearing.

As he could speak practically no English, Lieutenant A. W. Pressey, in charge of the naval recruiting office, was called upon to interpret the Spanish of Melendez into English. It was brought out that Melendez formerly had been connected with the postoffice at Humacao, Porto Rico, but had come to this country about ten months ago with about $200. He lived a short time in Vaiparaiso, Ind., he said, and then went to the harvest fields of North Dakota. From there he went to Chicago, he said, with $45 and tried to find work, but was unsuccessful, and came to this city recently practically "broke." He said he had been unable to find any work, and not knowing what to do, had deliberately placed the canceled stamps on the letters and mailed them in order to be arrested. He said that the letters were not addressed to anyone he knew, and contained only blank paper. He was about twenty-one, apparently, and said he had been at one time a printer.

He was not arrested. His story impressed the officials to whom he told it. Lieutenant Pressey saw to it that he obtained something to eat and a small collection was taken up for him by several inspectors who heard his story. He was sent to the Salvation Army headquarters with a letter. Should he not be received there he will be sent to some other charitable institution until some course is decided upon.

LAWING COMES HIGH

Price of a $3 Pair of Shoes Already Exceeds $175.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 4.—James Gaherty, an employee of the Illinois Central railroad at Clinton, purchased a pair of shoes for $3 from a Bloomington firm. Alleging a defect, Gaherty refused payment and was sued. He lost his case, costs amounting to $6.85 being assessed against him. He appealed to the county court and lost there, his costs being $11.90. Still confident, he appealed to the circuit court and declares that if defeated there he will carry the case to the supreme court. His expenses through loss of time in attending the various trials, his attorney's fees, those of his opponent, court costs and other expenses in the case have aggregated $175.75. Neither side shows any disposition to quit.

The Morse Case Now in the Hands of the Twelve.

New York, Nov. 4.—Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis, who are on trial in the United States circuit court charged with conspiracy and violation of the national banking laws, will probably know their fate this afternoon. The lawyers for the defense finished their final arguments and last night United States District Attorney Stimson began his closing argument for the government. This morning Mr. Stimson finished his address and Judge Hough gave his charge to the jury. Then it will remain for the verdict of the jury to bring the famous trial to a close.

Mr. Stimson did not spare the two defendants in his speech. He characterized Mr. Curtis as "childlike, overwhelmed with the power of wealth and under the influence of Morse."

ROOSEVELT FIXING FOR AFRICAN TRIP

Expects to Leave Soon After Retirement.

New York, Nov. 4.—From an excellent authority it is learned that President Roosevelt plans to leave New York on March 13th, nine days after the inauguration, by the North German Lloyd liner Koenig Albert for Naples, via Gibraltar, where the liner is due on March 25.

Besides his son, Kermit, who will take photographs of the big game in Africa, he will be accompanied by a professor from the Smithsonian Institute, and an official from the Navy department. From Naples, Mr. Roosevelt and his party will travel on one of the German East African steamers to Mombassa, via the Suez canal and Aden, a sea journey of seventeen days, including stops.

So far no arrangements have been made for the six months the party will spend in Uganda province, between the coast and Port Florence, a distance of 584 miles. On Lake Victoria Nyanza the party will embark for Entebbe, in Central Africa. One thing is certain, Mr. Roosevelt will not enter the Congo territory. He has received an invitation from Mr. McMillan, nephew of the late Senator James McMillan of Detroit, who owns 50,000 acres of forest, mountain and jungle in the Nobile in the district of Uganda, to shoot over his estates and use the comfortable shooting boxes that have been erected in various sections where big game is to be found.

APPRECIATIVE CHINESE

Both messages, one signed by forty-one public officials, directors and officers of private enterprises representing twenty provinces, and the other by the former governor of Kiangsu and various prominent citizens of Hang Chow, expressed appreciation of the friendly relations existing between the United States and China. Assistant Secretary of State Adee replied in kind to the cordial messages.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The supreme court of the United States has fixed Dec. 7 as the date for hearing argument in the case of the former negro soldier Oscar Reid, who was dismissed from the service without honor on account of his alleged participation in the Brownsville affair. The suit was instituted by Reid in the United States circuit court for southern New York for pay during the time of his enlistment. The verdict of that court was against him, and he appealed to the supreme court.

He succeeded to the important chairmanship of the ways and means committee on the death of Mr. Dingley of Maine, author of the present Dingley tariff law.

NEW YORK'S BIG NIGHT

Election Revelers Take Possession of "Great White Way."

New York, Nov. 4.—The closing of the polls last evening was the signal for a rush to Park Row, where the newspapers had strung up large white canvases on which were thrown election results, and by 8 o'clock scores of thousands had congregated in City Hall park and nearby streets. There were other crowds in front of the bulletin boards on Broadway, in Harlem and in Brooklyn. Two hours after the polls had closed several newspapers issued extras announcing the election of Taft and from the crowds of thousands arose a now familiar refrain, "Taft, Taft, Big Bill Taft." From opposing thousands came the chorus "Wait and see, Taft has not won yet."

Broadway was the scene of much revelry, a continuous parade of merry-makers going up one side of the "great white way" and down the other. Although the climax of the saturnalia was not reached until the theaters let out the crowds, the celebration began long before the closing of the polls. The matter of the election of the candidates, of one or the other of the parties played absolutely no part in the start of the general demonstration. With all the noise and confusion, the demeanor of the crowd was in every way proper and in harmony with the spirit of the day and hour.

Loudenslager's Congratulations.

New York, Nov. 4.—Congressman Loudenslager, secretary of the Republican congressional committee, in addition to sending congratulatory telegrams to Judge Taft and James S. Sherman, sent a message to President Roosevelt in which he congratulated the executive on the election of the Republican nominees for president and vice president and on an increased Republican majority in the lower house. Speaking of the congressional returns the congressman declared that he was satisfied that the Republican majority in the house of representatives would be in excess of the forecast made by him last week in which he predicted 237 Republican congressmen to 164 Democrats.

Surprised His Friends.

THREE SETS OF WARRANTS.

Tennessee Authorities Going Full Tilt After Night Riders.

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Upon the affidavits of James S. Deason, relative of Captain Quentin Rankin, Hillsman Taylor, son of Colonel R. Z. Taylor, and J. C. Burdick owner of the fish docks at Samburg, which were once destroyed by night riders, three hundred state warrants for the arrest of one hundred alleged night riders, have been issued by Justice R. Polk. There are three sets of warrants against each of the one hundred men and of this number, at least two-thirds are already under arrest or parole by the military authorities at Camp Nemo. One set of warrants charge murder in the first degree, being based upon the killing of Captain Rankin. The second set charge assault with intent to commit murder while masked, also a capital offense under the laws of Tennessee. They are based upon the attempt made to end Colonel Taylor's life. The third set of warrants, those sworn to by Mr. Burdick, charge the parties named with going masked upon the premises of another in the night time. The maximum punishment for this offense is twenty-one years in the penitentiary and the minimum punishment is two years. It was one of the contentions of the attorneys who filed petition of habeas corpus in behalf of Ed. Marshall and Will Watson, now in custody, that the men were held without legal writ of warrants.

CONFESSED SHOCKING CRIME.

Guilty Love Led to Foul Murder of Michigan Man.

Detroit, Nov. 4.—After confessing their guilt to the police, John Kurka, a teamster, and Mrs. Anthony Schultz were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Gerhard in Hamtramck township and pleaded guilty to the charge of murdering Mrs. Schultz's husband, who was a half brother of Kurka. The latter said that the crime was attributed to an illicit affection between himself and his half brother's wife. Kurka had been living in the home of the Schultz couple.

"Annie, I've told them all about it," said Kurka when the woman was brought before the police after Kurka's confession, and the woman dropped sobbing and hysterical into a chair. The police officials sat silent for ten minutes until she controlled herself and then listened to her story.

According to the two confessions the police say that Schultz was murdered in his bed about 3:30 a. m., a week ago yesterday, the wife in another room being able to hear the fatal blows of the axe each time it fell.

The pleas of guilty in the justice's court act as a waiver of a justice court examination and throw the cases into the circuit court of Wayne county.

TRACTION MEN ORGANIZE

As a Result They Get Material Reduction in Hours.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 4.—The first benefit received by the employees of the Illinois traction system, who recently organized on the advice of Congressman William McKinley, president of the company, came when a new schedule on all of the interurban and various city lines owned by the company was commenced. According to the new schedule each employee will have to work only eight hours instead of ten and one-half hours, as was formerly the case. Wages of the men are also increased and the seniority plan of increase in wages is adopted: The longer a man stays with the company the better salary he gets. The men organized about two months ago.

Deadly Feud Row in Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 4.—As a result of a feudal war at Campton Junction, about twenty miles west of Jackson, Islow Allen, aged twenty years, was shot and killed; Alvin Garver, aged twenty-two, was badly injured, and Clarence Sherman, who did the shooting, was shot in the head but managed to escape to the mountains. Eight barrels of whisky shipped into town for the election brought on the trouble, although family troubles of long standing played a prominent part.

His Confidence Was Betrayed.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 4.—John McMullen was arrested on the charge of wrecking the Duluth Limited of the Omaha railroad near Augusta last Thursday. He is said to have confessed his crime to his sweetheart, who informed the authorities. The train when it was wrecked was going fifty miles an hour and was thrown off the track because a rail had been removed. Eight persons were slightly injured.

The October Deficit.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures for October shows an increase in receipts of $1,000,000 and an increase in expenditures of $7,000,000 as compared with September. The total receipts for the month were $49,317,724 and the expenditures $60,338,722, leaving a deficit for the month of $10,721,038. The increase in the public debt during October less cash in the treasury was $8,511,975.

Out West there is very little interest manifested in the farmers' uplift movement. The kind of lift the farmers want right now is somebody to help shuck corn.

There is something inspiring and majestic in the spectacle of 14,000,000 of free people going to the ballot box and quietly registering their choice. No other nation affords such a sight of equal importance or on so large a scale.

However true may be the expression that "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world," it is quite possible for a wrong construction to be put upon it. This is so when fathers use it as an excuse for neglecting their own obligations to their children. To throw all the responsibility of the care of the children upon the mother is unwise and cowardly. The father has his duties to perform as well as the mother, and when they are not performed then, however gracious may be the mother's training and influence, the child is not receiving all the rightful home training to which it is entitled.

Some people have queer ideas, or at least such is the public opinion. Black is the regulation color for funerals and mourning, but occasionally some one enters a protest against it. This was true of a man by the name of R. B. James, who lived at Biddeford, England. In his life he had a pronounced aversion to black mourning clothes, and left instructions that at his funeral black should be avoided as far as possible. He died recently and his wish was sacredly regarded. The glass hearse was painted white, his daughters wore costumes of purple with black hats, his grandchildren were dressed in white serge with black trimmings, and the wreath of flowers were in gay colors.

SUE DR. DIXON. Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—Thomas Dixon, Jr., clergyman and dramatist, is the defendant in a $50,000 slander suit brought against him by Walter A. Montgomery, a former justice of the supreme court. The case is set for today in federal court. Dixon has retained leading lawyers of this city and New York to fight the suit. The charge against Dixon grew out of his new play, "The Traitor," which has succeeded "The Clansman" and "The Leopard's Spots" in popular favor.

Judge Montgomery presided at a Republican meeting here, at which the Republican candidate for Governor spoke and in his speech denounced Dixon, saying his play, "The Traitor," was evidently brought South to aid Democracy and stir up old fires; that Dixon's face (exhibiting a picture) was that of a hyena prowling about a graveyard from which children would run and women shrink. Dixon replied through the News and Observer of Raleigh in an open letter, bitterly denouncing Montgomery. The night after Dixon's letter appeared "The Traitor" played here to a packed house.

Acceptances have already been received from Governor Hughes of New York, Governor Ansell of South Carolina, Senator Dolliver of Iowa and other prominent speakers.

CURRENT COMMENT

Panama's Sanitary Lesson. That canal across the isthmus may never float a ship from ocean to ocean, but never mind. In attempting to put through the great enterprise we may think it worth while to juggle with some of our sacred home traditions in the matter of the employment of labor and buying supplies, and again never mind. Really the traditions were made for home use when we never anticipated having to dig a big ditch across a stretch of tropical territory. Even at this date, with the great enterprise but barely begun, we have achieved in the sanitation of the isthmus a feat which the London Lancet, chief British authority on medical and sanitary work, declares is as great as the construction of the canal itself.

All the world knows that in tackling the canal job we faced the generally fatal effects of tropical temperature, with its debilitating humidity, accentuated by noisome exhalations poisonous to natives as well as to people from the temperate zone. It seemed ridiculous to imagine that American ingenuity and energy could modify conditions that had turned back the French, who had the teaching and experience of half a century in Africa to guide them. And yet within three years we have demonstrated the possibility of healthful life for both native and foreigner in the tropics. A great problem in human possibilities and perhaps in human destiny has been put to test. Cities of the isthmus which before were hotbeds of disease have been transformed through systems of waterworks and sewerage, widened and paved streets and efficient sanitary regulations arbitrarily enforced. There need not be a pestilential city on the face of the globe after this unless its inhabitants choose to maintain it so.

Already the success of our sanitation in Panama has borne fruit throughout the country, and its lesson will not be lost on the whole world. The English know from past experience in India and other tropical lands the tremendous difficulties we have encountered and overcome; hence it is a tribute for its chief medical organ to say that our work in Panama has actually changed the climate of the country so that it is no longer dangerous for foreigners to live there nor for natives to do a man's day's work there. On this point the Lancet says:

In the lap of the gods rests the future of the Panama canal enterprise. Whether it prove the great engineering triumph and commercial highway to which many of us look forward time alone will show, but of one credit history can never rob the United States. Among much good and evil it must be recorded that it was under the American administration that the knowledge and the resources of modern science were applied to the hygienic redemption of the once noisome isthmus. Such fruits of labor in this direction have already been gathered that they promise to rival as a worthy monument of American achievement even the canal itself.

This is high praise, but it is deserved, for the freeing of one of the unhealthiest quarters of the inhabited world from the many malignant diseases which formerly spread terror there is, as the Lancet elsewhere observes, "almost a miracle."

Talk About Sleeping

Women are like men when it comes to sleeping. Plenty of restful sleep makes a man strong and vigorous, and it makes a woman happy and beautiful. But both women and men can procure restful sleep by using Seline Pills. It is well known that nervousness and overwork prevent sleep. It is equally well known that Seline Pills produce that delightful relaxation that folds one's tired limbs in nature's arms while the unconscious body draws new life and vigor. Seline Pills are the perfect tonic. They are guaranteed for all forms of weakness. They cost $1 a box; six boxes for $5, with full guarantee inclosed. Address or call Hargrove & Mullin, Rushville. IN HARBOR. I THINK it is over, over; I think it is over at last; Voices of foeman and lover, The sweet and the bitter have passed; Life, like a tempest of ocean, Hath outblown its ultimate blast. There's but a faint sobbing seaward, While the calm of the tide deepens leeward. And, behold, like the welcoming quiver Of heart pulses throbbled through the river, Those lights in the harbor at last, The heavenly harbor at last!

I feel it is over, over, For the winds and the waters surcease Ah, few were the days of the rover That smiled in the beauty of peace, And distant and dim was the omen That hinted redress or release! From the ravage of life and its riot What marvel I yearn for the quiet Which bides in the harbor at last, For the lights, with their welcoming quiver, That thro' through the sanctified river, Which girdle the harbor at last, This heavenly harbor at last! I know it is over, over; I know it is over at last! Down sail! The sheathed anchor uncover, For the stress of the voyage has passed. Life, like a tempest of ocean, Hath outbreathed its ultimate blast. There's but a faint sobbing seaward, While the calm of the tide deepens leeward. And, behold, like the welcoming quiver Of heart pulses throbbled through the river, Those lights in the harbor at last, The heavenly harbor at last! —Paul Hamilton Hayne.

Arrest Liquor Men.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—As the result of a crusade commenced by a New York weekly periodical, and taken up all over the South, members of the firm of Levy & Company, distillers and liquor dealers, have been arrested on charges of using obscene and indecent labels on their products. It was alleged by the New York magazine that the gin made by the concern, and which is largely consumed by the negroes of the South bore suggestive and vulgar labels, and that the advertising matter of the company was of such a character as to violate the postal laws. Insinuations have been made that the gin is largely responsible for arousing base passions of the negroes and driving them to the nameless crimes against women which are of such alarming frequency in the South.

The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury against Lee Levy and Adolph Asher. It is stated that these men have become wealthy through the sale of their gin, which is one of the principal products. Prominent attorneys have been engaged to defend the men and the trial promises to develop many sensations.

There are two counts in each of the indictments against Asher and Levy. The first indictment is brought under the law governing express companies, while the second is on alleged violation of the postal regulations. The four counts render Asher and Levy each liable to a maximum penalty in case of conviction on all of 20 years in the penitentiary and $20,000 fines.

An Eastern weekly publication took up the issue and attacked District Attorney Henry W. Blodgett and the officials of this Federal District for their alleged failure to act, in a series of violent articles in which the negro assaults of the South were laid at the door of distributors of such labels and indirectly the local government officials.

Asher & Levy have been made the issue in prohibition fights up to date in the Southern States. In the Patterson-Carmack gubernatorial primaries last spring, Carmack exhibited an alleged Levy label at nearly all of his meetings.

The labels formerly used by Levy & Co. on their gin bottles are the grounds of the indictments. The Government contends that by holding the labels in a certain position the picture presented is one that tends to arouse depraved passions in a negro.

Asher & Levy will fight the indictment to the last ditch. The objectionable labels were removed from their goods under the storm raised by Southern Prohibitionists in the heat of the Carmack-Patterson campaign. At the same time one of the whisky company's salesmen was indicted in the Federal Court in Louisiana, but the case against him has been dropped.

With "Indifference" Unconquered Church Will Perish

By the Rev. Dr. CHARLES F. AKED of New York.

THE QUESTION OF THE DECREASING MEMBERSHIP AND WANING INFLUENCE OF RELIGION—THE CHURCHES—IS NOT A DENOMINATIONAL QUESTION. IT IS NOT A NATIONAL QUESTION. IT IS A QUESTION AS WIDE AS CHRISTIANITY ITSELF.

Conditions in America are, broadly speaking, the same as in England and in England as in the rest of Europe. The danger is not from direct attack on religion. The denial of belief—that is, ATHEISM—HAS SPENT ITS FORCE. What the churches have to fear is a MORE INSIDIOUS DANGER—INDIFFERENCE.

THE MAN IN THE STREET SAYS THE CHURCH IS A BACK NUMBER. HE FEELS THAT HE CAN DO WITHOUT IT.

If you ask him whether he believes in God, in the existence of an infinite power superior to man, the chances are that he will say "Yes." But questions of dogma, distinctions of creed, do not interest him, and he refuses to concern himself about them. HE HAS MADE UP HIS MIND THAT HE CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT RELIGION—that is, religion as it has been expounded to him. But that does not mean necessarily that he is irreligious.

It seems to me that this indifference is MORE PRONOUNCED IN AMERICA than in England, just as orthodoxy is more strictly defined and more unyielding over here. And where there is indifference to the church I can form no other conclusion than that the CHURCH ITSELF IS TO BLAME. Yet the need of religion never has been greater in any age or country than in this country and in the day we live.

CHURCHES EXIST AND PREACHERS ARE MAINTAINED TO REMIND MEN AND NATIONS OF THE ETERNAL LAWS THEY MUST OBEY AND THE ETERNAL LOVE IN WHICH THEY MAY REST.

And in the United States they may yet be needed as the mainstay of social order. Either the churches have got to live up to the task of KEEPING THE SOUL OF THE NATION ALIVE OR THEY WILL PERISH.

VIED WITH THE MONTH OF JUNE

An Unlucky Number of Marriage Licenses Issued Last Month at County Clerk's Office

TWO MARRIAGE ON LAST DAY

Dan Cupid wound up October in a blaze of glory and two marriage licenses were issued at the clerk's office, making a total of thirteen for the month. This number is rather unlucky, but, it is hoped, it will have no effect upon the future of the newly married couples, who united during this month. October vied with the month of June, which is famous for its marriages, and, in fact, nearly surpassed it in the number of marriage licenses issued.

RABBITS SOON BE IN SEASON

General Misunderstanding as to the Hunting Law in the State of Indiana.

GOES OUT 10th OF THIS MONTH

Fine of Ten Dollars is Placed When Convicted of Violation of This Law.

It is generally understood among the local nimrods that it is now lawful to hunt rabbit. The law relative to the shooting or possession of such game which was passed in 1905, reads as follows: "An act conceding public offences. Section 600—Whoever shoots or destroys or pursues for the purpose of shooting or destroying, or has in his possession any wild dove at any time from the first day of January of any year to the fifteenth day of August of the same year, and from the first day of October of any year to the tenth day of November of the same year, or who ever hunts, shoots or destroys, or has in his possession any rabbit from the first day of October of any year to the tenth day of November of the same year, shall on conviction be fined ten dollars for each wild dove, etc."

This law was repealed by House Bill 438, approved March 9, 1907; which amends 595, 596, 598, 599, 602, 607, 609, 611 and repeals section 600 on an act entitled an act concerning public offences, approved March 10, 1905.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

Homer Cole tells a very amusing joke upon himself. Homer, it seems, had some time to spare while in the State of Pennsylvania and so decided to hunt for some of the celebrated Pennsylvania bear. As the story goes, he started out in the morning and walked and walked, and still not one glimpse of a grizzly did he get. After various marches and countermarches, he had lost all idea of direction, and when it came time to return to civilization, was at a loss as to which way to turn. At the very moment when his thoughts were upon things other than bear, the unexpected happened. Homer heard a cracking of twigs and turned to see a large grizzly a few yards distant, quietly eating berries from a bush and wholly unaware of his presence. But Homer's nerve failed him, he could not do it. And he had several good reasons for it. His shotgun was small and he figured that if he shot the bear and only injured him, he, himself might have some trouble in escaping. And as the bear is so much more able to climb a tree than a human being, his doubts as to his ability to escape from the enraged animal increased. After much reasoning with himself Homer could not understand why he ever came bear hunting, and so he quietly slipped away from the vicinity of the animal, and finally found his way home. Homer then and there swore that he cared for no more such experiences.

labor was arrayed against Taft as well as against me. It was practically a liquor question and not a labor question. The same is true in the other liquor sections of the State so that I was defeated squarely on the proposition of county local option, and the returns justify this assertion. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, and no man can say that I did not keep the faith."

CLEAN SWEEP OF THE COUNTY TICKET

Republicans Elect All Candidates in Rush County by Big Majorities.

SOME OF THE CAUSES GIVEN

A clean sweep of the county ticket is the boast of Rush county Republicans. That, in itself, is much to be proud of. Good men were nominated for the offices and they fought a hard and consistent fight throughout.

Large majorities were rolled up and quite a number of votes were gained by the low type of journalism (?) fattered by the Democracy in this county. Experience is a wise teacher.

LETTER FROM A FORTY-NINER

Could Not Obtain Relief From Catarh Until He Had Used Hyomei.

Here is a simple, interesting and sincere letter from a rugged pioneer of '49, who braved the dangers and hardships of the overland trail to California. Surely the sincerity of this letter should strongly appeal to those who desire to escape the bondage in which they are now held by that ruthless and most powerful wrecker of health and happiness: Catarh.

Santa Rosa, Cal., May 5, 1908. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—Some years ago I was afflicted with catarh, and tried a number of remedies, but received no relief. I was told by a friend who had been using your Hyomei, and thought I would receive a great benefit and perhaps a cure. I purchased an outfit, and before I had used the bottle I noted a marked relief.

I used it for a month or so, and thought I was cured, and stopped using it for a year or so. Thought I was getting catarh again, and started using it again, and I keep it in the house and use it every morning once a day, and keep myself clear of catarh. I consider it the best catarh medicine that is used. I have often recommended it to my friends. I am 81 years old. I came to California in 1849, and of course am not as vigorous as I was 58 years ago. My address is 841 .th St., Yours truly, W. Mook.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. not only for catarh, but for grip, coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup of infants, asthma, and all diseases of the nose, throat and lungs. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00; extra bottles of Hyomei if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents. Ask F. B. Johnson & Co. about it.

New York Fashion Letter

BY CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT.

Allof the new shades are of the softest tones, and the idea is not contrast but costumes and hats of one tone in its different tints. A solid color is almost as much avoided as the contrast.

Some of the new colors are known as orchid, wistaria, amethyst, Geraniums, pink mulberry, salmon, mole grey, smoke, Nazimova, peacock and canard, lanagea green, grey blue and ashes of rose. One of the very newest tints is "Pilsener," a new color which is seen in some of the very latest importations. It is a pale yet warm looking yellow, hardly deeper than cream.

These colors are found to best advantages among these fabrics intended for the Directoire modes, which includes in silks, satin royal, satin Francaise, satin messaline, satin peau de cygne, and the satin meteor crepe. In wool fabrics there are the chiffon broadcloths, costume suitings, diagonal serges with rich cashmere boarders, shadows-pattern prunellas, chevots, serges and face cloths.

Special favor is being accorded to the lustrous prunellas which are now manufactured as spot proof, and found in all the leading shades.

The Directoire cut is by all means the most fashionable for the street costume, and a very smart mode it is with a smart waist coat of Persian coloring of chintz, with cording of black and white velvet, full length sleeves, seams outlined with satin, finished with satin bullions and turned-back braided cuffs.

There is a radical change in collars, most of them are close-fitting, others in the Robespierre effect; pockets are lower and larger, and a number on the Colonial shape.

Shoulders are cut narrower, and the coats fall in perfectly straight lines, giving the hipless figure. The sleeves are close-fitting, the skirts gored, some with smart panels, others are mounted on high-fitted girdles. The skirts fall in graceful clinging lines.

The most fashionable trimming for this season for tailored suits is of Ottoman silk and a bit of the silk was placed beneath the opening and covered with a tiny frill of black lace. The skirt while narrow was draped in a graceful manner, being caught in to the back seam in sweeping folds. From the waist to the hem in the back is a perfectly straight panel, detached from the rest of the skirt, which forms the train. On the bodice there was a yoke of ecru crochet lace bordered with a band of floss stitching in tan and red on the cloth set at intervals with blue buttons. The collar was of black net and the sleeves of double blue net set very far back in square armholes.

Satin is used a very great deal, but it is the pliable liberty satin in most cases, not the thick, stiff kind that once held sway.

Laces are used but they must harmonize with the color scheme. They may be black, as the old Directoire costumes were frequently in all black or had sashes in black, and this custom is retained in the revival, or they may be dyed to match the gowns.

Seldom is cream or a contrasting color used. The chiffons and all the accessories are black or dyed to match the costume.

One of the most attractive new stocks which combines a sort of yoke, frames the face like flour petals. It is made of fine wash bobbinet and Valenciennes. There are two full plaited frills, they are plaited together and edged with valenciennes. This lies close about the face and a deep double frill like it falls over the yoke and shoulders and a ribbon to hide the joining passes around and is tied behind. This style is not a good one for a short neck.

For a jabot of washable net, cut in a strip, twenty-two inches long and wide enough to cover the chest after it has been pleated up very fine, this is laid on both sides of a tiny insertion, fastened to the stock in the middle and held with a long bar pin, or large brooch. A narrow satin ribbon may be passed under the scarf and brought around the neck and tied with a smart bow in the back.

It is astonishing how the designers have modified all the extremes of fashions to American needs and tastes. The princess gown is nothing like the gown once seen, the empire has been changed so it is practical for street as well as house.

A costume in brown was recently made in a street Empire style. The Empire line above the waistline was accentuated by bands of taffeta. The gown fell in considerable fullness below the shaped waistline; it had a slight sweep all about, but could have been shorter if desired. There was a turnover collar at the neck which was low, to be worn over a lace stock.

The empire gown is the correct mode for evening wear; and the plain one-piece dress is the dress for ordinary wear. With them will be worn all sorts of odd wraps and cloaks.

It is a fad just now to have a coat or cloak for each gown. The gown is often made at home and the coat at the tailor's.

The Directoire girde of satin taffeta or felle ribbon, is in keeping with the rest of the graceful flowing lines of the season's styles.

Closely-fitting underwear is a necessity of the season's Directoire styles, and a complete revolution is shown in all patterns.

Long sleeves have been decreed for all the newest waists. Many have pointed cuffs and the whole sleeve and yoke, especially of waists and guimpes to be worn under a one-piece costume and entirely of bands of insertion and embroidered muslins with many frills of Valenciennes lace.

BABY'S ITCH EASILY CUERD

Infantile Eczema Quickly Relieved by External Use of Oil of Winter-green Compound.

Infantile eczema, which has baffled the skill of the best physicians for so many years at last seems to be curable—and curable with great ease.

Results of the last two years indicate conclusively that baby's itch, infantile eczema and other skin diseases of children can be very simply cured by the application of a compound composed of oil of winter-green, thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription.

The Rev. Lewis Steeley of Weatherly, Pa., writes:

"Our baby boy's little face was so dreadfully covered with eczema that blood and water ran from the sores nearly all the time. After using 3½ bottles of D. D. D. Prescription we are so happy to tell you he is entirely cured, and the disease has never broken out again. If this letter is in any way a help to other sufferers, you may publish it."

If you have a child which is suffering with this terrible itch, we are sure you will not neglect one hour to give your baby the right kind of relief. We have seen too often how quickly the remedy mentioned above takes the itch away at once and how all the cures seem to be permanent; we have seen this too often to hesitate at all in recommending the remedy for your children.

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON * COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

We stood on our feet for hours, smiled yards of smiles, and said the same thing over and over again so many times that I began to feel like a phonograph doll which I saw in my first New York shop. Only when I ran down nobody wound me up, and I had to go on by myself as best I could, which was fatiguing and made the machinery squeak.

But everybody said it was a huge success. The New York papers had each more than a column about the "function," as they called it, and Mrs. Ess Kay was piously happy.

I had thought we were very gay before, but after the violet tea, from getting up to going to bed, we never had a moment that hadn't its own appointed place in the procession of hours, like the bead in a long rosary.

After breakfast we went to the Casino to play tennis, to listen to the concert or pretend to and to gabble. There we would meet everybody we knew, and it was odd to see the calm but slightly conscious air of superiority with which the everybodies, going in or out, passed the poor nobodies assembled to watch the Casino entrance. Just as the middle and lower class people stand till they are ready to drop only to see the queen drive into the park or leave Buckingham palace dreadfully bored to open a bridge, so these Americans jostle each other to see their millionaires and especially millionairesses going to enjoy themselves. Fancy if Londoners reduced themselves to a state of collapse for the pleasure of seeing Mr. Beit take off his hat to Mrs. Wertheimer! But the millionaires in America seem to be like our aristocracy, only more important, for the nonmillionaires take a great deal more trouble to stare at them than the common people do at us.

After the Casino there was always the beach, and the most delightful things happened at the beach. It was never twice the same. Then we would lunch with some one or some one would lunch with us at the Moorings. Afterward there would be a drive, calls to make, perhaps two or three wonderful "at homes" or concerts, with great singers and entertainers from New York, twenty minutes' rest and then a scramble to dress for dinner, with a "dinner dance" to follow, or amateur theatricals.

Of course, as I haven't been presented yet and don't know anything about what the season is like in town, except what Vic has told me, I can't judge of the differences at first hand, but then Vic has told me a lot, and I have heard Stan and Loveland talk, besides one seems to know one's own

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the labels, and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding country and country people by instinct without having actually to see what they do, and I'm sure that even in the smartest set at home they don't dream of bothering their heads to think of such original entertainments as in America.

In England there are just two or three kinds of parties. You give a crush, which is grand if you have a big house, or you ask a few bright, particular ones and enjoy yourself. Or in the country you have a house party and pick out the men because they can shoot and the women because they are pretty, or else, if it's winter, you hunt and you have theatricals. But the Americans at Newport turn up their noses at that slow, old fashioned kind of thing. They lie awake nights (I'm sure they must) to think of something so original that nobody else can ever have had anything the least like it before. It is better, too, to have it very sensational and startling. If you are invited to a party, you never know a bit what it will be like, whether you will dance in a barn and eat your supper on horseback out of decorated mangers, whether there will be captive balloons at a garden party, whether a Noah's ark will have been rigged up on a miniature lake or whether you will have a pair of skates provided for you and find yourself cutting figures on the ice in a gorgeously illuminated skating rink, with the thermometer up to goodness knows how many degrees outside.

Of course, in a place where everybody gets nervous prostration trying to outdo everybody else in originality and extravagance, it wouldn't be like Mrs. Ess Kay to let herself fall behind. She simply made up her mind that her big entertainment should be the affair of the season before she decided what form it should take. She thought instead of sleeping for several nights and began to wear the expression on her face which I have in motor cars when I think we are going to telescope with something twice our size, and am trying to prepare for eternity with a pleasant smile on my lips. She ate scarcely anything, telephoned a good deal and took phenacetin in hot milk. Then suddenly it came to her—I mean the idea.

We were at lunch when she thought of it, and luckily there were no visitors except Mrs. Pitchley and Carolyn, Mohunseigh and Tom Doremus. It was bad enough even with them, for she half sprang up, then sat down again, first going red, then going pale, and we all thought she was getting ready to faint. But as soon as she could speak she said, when we shrieked at her, "It's nothing—nothing. I've just thought of something, that's all."

Afterward, when she and Sally and Potter and I were alone together, she told us that at last she had got the inspiration for her big entertainment.

It was two days after the violet tea, so it was quite time she should get it, she said, and she had been dreadfully worried because the invitations ought to go out almost at once. The famous pink ball at the Casino was for the 23d, and she wanted to have her party the night before, so that everybody would be worn out, and the ball would fall flat.

"But we've got our cards all right now," said Potter. "Why do you want to queer the show?"

"I intend to show Mrs. Van der Windt what I can do," she answered.

"Suppose a lot of the people you want refuse you, so that they can be asked for the ball?" Sally suggested.

"They won't," said Mrs. Ess Kay, "when they have seen what I shall say on the invitations."

Then she got up, went to her desk, took out some engraved cards which she had ready, all but filling in the date, and wrote something in one corner. "What do you think of that?" she asked Sally.

Sally took the card, looked at it for a minute, laughed and passed it on to me, while Potter came and stared over my shoulder.

She had written across the card: "Fancy Dress, with Masks. A Visit to the Maze; and Aladdin's Cave."

"Do you think that will bring them?" she inquired, with a triumphant and mysterious air.

"I think it will," said Sally.

"You know your business, old girl," remarked Potter. "They'll want to know what it means, and they'll be bound to come and find out. What is your idea, anyway?"

"I'll tell you another time," said Mrs. Ess Kay. "I should like it to be a surprise for Betty, just as it will be for the people outside. She'll enjoy it more."

I didn't tease to know the secret, though I was really curious, especially about Aladdin's cave, which seemed to promise something gorgeous. The mystery was religiously kept, but there was plenty of excitement in sending out the invitations.

There were endless discussions between Mrs. Ess Kay and Potter, and though she seemed so angry with Mrs. Van der Windt and several other members of the ball committee for trying to make a stand against her, she was perfectly ruthless about the names she would scratch off the lists her secretary was continually making out and revising for her.

I heard her say that she wouldn't have dreamed of asking the Pitchleys if they hadn't "got hold of" Mohunseigh, and that Cora Pitchley, whatever else she might be, was the cleverest woman in Newport to have scooped in all the honors. Though to this day I can't see exactly what she meant, for she never would explain.

Anyhow, whatever the superlatively clever thing was Mrs. Pitchley had done, there was no longer a question of her being kept out from the pink ball or anything else. She was in.

We were at lunch when she thought of it, and luckily there were no visitors except Mrs. Pitchley and Carolyn, Mohunseigh and Tom Doremus. It was bad enough even with them, for she half sprang up, then sat down again, first going red, then going pale, and we all thought she was getting ready to faint. But as soon as she could speak she said, when we shrieked at her, "It's nothing—nothing. I've just thought of something, that's all."

"They won't," said Mrs. Ess Kay, "when they have seen what I shall say on the invitations."

Then she got up, went to her desk, took out some engraved cards which charming to her, and we met Mrs. Van der Windt herself at the chateau at a luncheon party with a vaudeville entertainment afterward and also at a dinner. Mrs. Van der Windt seemed to like my cousin, Mohunseigh, very much, too, and gave a moonlight motor car picnic especially for him, with only a few people asked besides ourselves and the Pitchleys and Tom Doremus.

Mohunseigh had not expected to stay more than a few days, but when he found that the friend he wanted to visit in California was detained in New York on business and Mrs. Pitchley and everybody urged him very much to stop, he decided that he would. I didn't suppose that Mohunseigh would care for frivolities after all the years he has spent tramping about in strange countries, killing things, but he appeared to be perfectly happy and nothing bored him so long as the Pitchleys were there.

When Mrs. Ess Kay was making out the list of invitations for the great blowout, as Potter called it, Mohunseigh happened to stroll over to the Moorings alone. He came to tell us that he had made up his mind to stay, and why.

"You see," he exclaimed, "I hadn't an invitation for any special time from Harborborough. It was a sort of standing thing, given when we met in Damascus last winter. I was to come when I could, and be always welcome—that sort of thing, don't you know. I cabled the day I sailed, and didn't get any answer, but I hadn't been in New York two hours when I'm blessed if the beggar didn't wait in on me at the Waldorf. Jolly glad to see me and all that, but had to hang on in New York for a bit on some business or other. Now he thinks he can't get off for a fortnight or so, and as what he's got on isn't my sort of racket, I might as well be here as anywhere else, perhaps a little better."

"What Harborborough is your friend?" inquired Mrs. Ess Kay, with interest.

"The new San Francisco millionaire?"

"Don't know how new he is," said Mohunseigh, "or even whether he's a millionaire, for the sort of thing one doesn't ask a chap. But if he isn't a millionaire, he can spend money like one, for I've seen him do it. A deuce of a good fellow he is; don't know a better anywhere."

"It's Jameson B. Harborborough, isn't it?" asked Sally, and I was quite surprised to hear her ask the question, for she never seems to take any interest in a man just because he is a millionaire, as so many of the other people I meet do.

"Yes; those are his initials," said Mohunseigh, looking bored.

"Then it is the millionaire, Katherine," went on Sally, quite eagerly. "Don't you think, as he's said to be such an interesting, original sort of person and such a friend of Lord Mohunseigh's besides, that it would be nice if you gave Lord Mohunseigh a card to send him for your party on the 23d?"

"Why, yes, that's a very good idea of yours, Sally," exclaimed Mrs. Ess Kay. "I shall be delighted. I'll give you the card now, Lord Mohunseigh, if you don't mind."

INDIANA SPLITS ITS BALLOTS

While Electing Taft It Chooses a Democratic Governor.

RESULT OF A BITTER CONTEST

The Election of Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic Candidate for Governor, Over James E. Watson, Was Offset for the Republicans by the Latter Carrying the State's Electoral Vote for Taft by a Very Narrow Majority—Indianapolis Elected Complete Democratic County Ticket.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—The returns from the state of Indiana, based upon incomplete reports, make a peculiar showing. For the first time since Thomas A. Hendricks was elected governor and U. S. Grant carried the state for the national ticket, Indiana has given a majority to the Republican candidate for president and a majority to the Democratic candidate for governor.

The reports indicate:

1. That Taft has carried Indiana by a substantial but not a large plurality.
2. That Thomas R. Marshall has been elected governor by a small plurality.
3. That nearly all, if not all, of the candidates on the Republican state ticket except James E. Watson have been elected.
4. That the Democrats have elected a majority of the congressional delegation from Indiana.
5. That the legislature is close and the United States senatorship hangs in the balance.

It is believed that the entire Democratic state ticket is elected and that the Democrats will control the legislature. The Republicans lost their legislative ticket here and at Terre Haute and other cities. Unless the country shows unexpected gains the Democrats will have the legislature on joint ballot, which will mean the retirement of James A. Hemenway from the senate. Judge Taft's plurality in this county will be less than 1,000, although Roosevelt carried it four years ago by 13,000.

While Chairman Goodrich and his associates have not authorized any statement giving Indiana to Thomas R. Marshall, the Democratic nominee for governor, they stated privately that he has carried the state. Chairman Goodrich thinks, however, that his plurality would not exceed 3,000. The Democratic leaders are insisting that Marshall has carried Indiana by a plurality exceeding 15,000 and that the result, so far as Taft and Bryan are concerned, is in doubt.

It looks now as though Republicans may have lost control of the legislature on joint ballot and which would mean the retirement of Senator James A. Hemenway of Boonville. This, however, is not conceded at the Republican state headquarters.

The Republicans have carried the First, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth congressional districts; the Democrats the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, and Twelfth sure. The Eleventh is doubtful.

Bees Laxative Cough Syrup always brings quick relief to coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping-cough and all bronchial and throat trouble. Mothers especially recommend it for children. Pleasant to take, gently laxative. Sold by Lytle's drug store.

People Will Talk You Know

And that's the reason why Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are advertised so little now-a-days. They have made hundreds of thousands of cures in the past 40 years, and some of the grateful people whom they have restored to health are to be found almost everywhere. There's scarcely a hamlet that don't contain some. Look them up. Interview them. They are living, walking, active advertisements

For Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines.

You can believe your neighbors. Therefore ask them. What cured them will very likely cure you, if similarly afflicted—only give them a good, fair trial.

It's a good, sound, common sense policy to use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for paper covered book. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book. RIOTING AT HONG KONG.

Local Merchants Resented Attempts to Enforce Boycott.

Hong Kong, Nov. 4.—Rioting which resulted here from the attempt of those involved to force the local merchants to continue the boycott against Japanese goods, has been suppressed by the soldiers, who were called out to patrol the business districts. One Chinese who offered armed resistance, was shot.

The riots were organized primarily by the students of this city, and the disturbance is evidently widespread. At Singapore similar riots have occurred and a number of merchants said to have shown a desire to discount the boycott and otherwise favor Japan, have been branded as traitors and in several instances marked by having their ears slit. It is alleged that a league has been formed secretly and has pledged itself to give any man who slits the ears of a so-called "traitor", $15, and should he be thrown into jail, to see that he is held up to the public as a martyr and to pay him a dollar a day while in prison. Should one of the traitor merchants be killed, it is alleged the league agrees to pay his slayer $200.

At Canton there have been hints of the same trouble and a number of ruffians have been hired to attack merchants. Vigorous measures to suppress the rioting have been taken.

HAD BAD LUCK

First Tournament of Aeronautic Society Not a Success.

New York, Nov. 4.—Two accidents of a serious nature marred the first annual tournament of the Aeronautic Society, held at Morris Park in the presence of a crowd of several thousand spectators. Lawrence J. Leah of Montreal, the record holder for towed flights in a glider, dropped a distance of forty feet, sustaining a fracture of his right leg, and Fred Young, an eight-year-old boy, was struck by a motor cycle and badly lacerated. The only successful flight was that of Prof. John Mack of Bridgeport, Conn., who ascended 3,000 feet in an old-fashioned hot-air balloon. The more modern airships were either unable to rise or else met with accidents when they did leave the ground. The motor cycle portion of the program, however, furnished many exciting finishes.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 4.—General Solicitor W. R. Begg of the Great Northern railroad confirmed the shortage of $50,000 in the accounts of A. J. Gordon of Spokane, Wash., formerly general counsel for the Great Northern at Spokane. Speaking of the matter, Mr. Begg said:

"It is true that Mr. Gordon is short in his accounts $50,000. As I understand it he was sent two drafts to pay into court the amount of taxes in litigation in Ferry county. One of the drafts I understood was for $30,000, and the other for $20,000. He took the money and we are sorry."

"Has he promised to pay up?"

"Yes, but we doubt if he can do it. We have not decided whether or not we will prosecute."

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., Rushville, Ind., says: Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy I ever used for my kidneys. They strengthened my back and banished the pain. Mrs. Levi has also used them with great satisfaction. She met with an accident which affected her kidneys and as a result she could hardly move without sharp shooting twinges darting through her. I got Doan's Kidney Pills for her at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store, knowing that they would be of benefit, as they had helped me. In a short time she had both strength and freedom from pain through their use."

THE TAFT SMILE GREW AND GREW

Victorious Nominee Was Early Sure of Result.

JOY IN CINCINNATI HOME

At the Home of His Brother, Charles P., in the Queen City, the Successful Nominee, Surrounded by a Merry Party of Friends and Relatives, Received the Word That the People of the Greatest Nation on Earth Had Called Him to Chief Place in That Nation.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—There was no break in the optimistic character of the returns received at the C. P. Taft residence in this city where William H. Taft, the Republican candidate, and Mrs. Taft were surrounded last night by a merry party of relatives and close friends. Elaborate preparations had been made by C. P. Taft for the best telegraphic service possible. The rear veranda of the quaint but aristocratic old mansion on Pike street had been enclosed and an up-to-date telegraph room established. One wire was directly connected with national Republican headquarters in New York and three others brought in news as gathered by the Associated Press and other sources. From 6 o'clock on bulletins were received in increasing numbers and the enthusiasm of the party increased in proportion.

In the big drawing room were gathered Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Taft and their daughter, Miss Louise; Mrs. William H. Taft and her three sisters, Miss Maria Herron, Mrs. Prof. Moore and Mrs. William Anderson and Prof. Moore. Also Miss Della Tarrey, aunt of the candidate; Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Wallingford, sister of Representative Longworth; Dr. J. J. Richardson of Washington; Fred W. Carpenter, Judge Taft's secretary; A. I. Vorys and J. T. Williams, representing Chairman Hitchcock, and a party of newspaper men. Gus J. Karger read the bulletins and the applause became more hilarious as the roseate hue of the returns deepened. Meanwhile Judge Taft circulated out in the operating room and among the guests, exhibiting the finest specimen of that smile which the campaign has made famous.

IT WAS SOON OVER

Mr. Bryan Went to Bed at Ten O'Clock.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—William J. Bryan received at his home, Fairview, the returns which early told him that for the third time he had been defeated in the greatest ambition of his life. Confident of victory to the very last, he was not prepared to believe that his cause was lost until the pluralities of his Republican opponent piled up in such proportions as to leave no room for doubt. When the early returns came in he made particular inquiries regarding the state of New York and found much encouragement in the gains he was making up state over the Democratic vote of 1904, but as the figures continued to be received he relied on Greater New York to offset the heavy Taft vote above the Harlem river. Even in that he was bitterly disappointed, and he soon realized that the state was hopelessly gone and with it his prospects of being elected. After nearly three hours spent in his library, Mr. Bryan came upstairs and talked to the newspaper men and others who had assembled in the "work room." He read some further returns, but they told the same story of defeat, and he announced that he would not have any statement to give out at that time.

A large number of the voters of his precinct came in to congratulate him on its being carried for him, and after chatting with them for a while he went into the house, first stating that he would retire at 10 o'clock.

Hawaii to Have New Garrison.

Washington, Nov. 4.—A board of seven officers of the army has been appointed to meet in the Hawaiian Islands for the location of buildings of a permanent garrison for one regiment of infantry, two squadrons of cavalry, one regiment of field artillery, one company of engineers, one company of the signal corps and a general hospital and barracks for a detachment of the hospital corps.

May Boycott Tsing Tau Harbor.

Tsing Tau, Nov. 4.—On account of new harbor regulations which went into effect November 1, the local agents of Chinese and British steamers entering this port are trying to bring about a boycott of the harbor. Vessels bringing cargoes for this city and surrounding towns are now discharging their cargoes to lighters outside the harbor, thereby avoiding the port regulations.

BENEFIT TO BE GAINED BY FIRE

Shirley Will Rebuild Business Blocks
Out of the Ashes of the Old Structure.

ONE ALREADY BEEN STARTED

Many Capitalists Want Assurance of Fire Protection Before Making Any Plans.

Notwithstanding the many reports to the contrary that are being circulated, Shirley is going to rebuild and within a few days new buildings will be in the course of construction to replace those destroyed by fire two weeks ago, says the Shirley News.

C. D. Houck has closed a deal with B. L. Byrket for his lot adjoining the Reeves lot on the south and Mr. Houck and Masterson have already commenced a building 38x70 on it and the Masterson lot adjoining. The building will be of cement and contain two rooms each 19x70. The north room will belong to Mr. Hauck and the south to Mr. Masterson. As soon as completed Mr. Houck will occupy his room with his drug store and it is probably that Mr. Masterson will move his bakery into the other.

The Wood block may not be rebuilt before next spring but all work that can be done this fall will be done so that there won't be any delay next spring. Desire Gabrielle, the Smaw Bros., Norman Reeves and Frank Legg, all of whom were burned out by the fire, will rebuild. Mr. Martindale states that as soon as he is given assurance of water protection he will rebuild.

A marriage license was issued to Mrs. Lucy Pettiford and William Jones today.

WHYNOT WATSON FOR THE SENATE?

Provided a Berth in the Cabinet
Would Appeal to Senator
Beveridge.

WATSON, THE PEEOPLE'S IDOL

They Did Not Vote Against Him—
Neither Did They Vote For Marshall.

Confidentially: Think this over and if the plan seems feasible, as they say in the parlance of base ball "Let's start from here." Senator Beveridge was chosen by Taft to make the keynote speech of the campaign; our senior senator is a prime favorite with the President-elect and President Roosevelt, and stands for the furtherance of the Rooseveltian policies at all times. Then why not a place for him in Taft's cabinet. As Secretary of State he would be in a position to do a mighty and great work with the administration. And he is a presidential possibility for 1912 or 1916. In no other position could he better groom and qualify himself for the greatest office in the gift of the people.

Indiana could then send James E. Watson to the United States Senate and everybody would be happy and everybody concerned would have their condition bettered.

Even in the face of the present defeat no man is so popular in all Indiana as James E. Watson. He is the idol of the people. His defeat can be attributed to only one thing—the liquor question. The people of Indiana did not vote against Watson; neither did they vote for Marshall (any Democrat would have been elected) but they voted against county option.

Now let us find a place for Watson in the Senate.

TOO MUCH BOOZE CAUSES TROUBLE

Pet Bright Created Some Excitement in West Part of the City
This Morning.

WAS FINALLY LODGED IN JAIL

Pet Bright drank more whiskey than he knew what to do with this morning and then went down to the west end and proceeded to tear up things. It seems that he first stopped at his boarding house and cursed the landlady until he was finally thrown out.

Still looking for trouble Bright walked down to Reed's elevator and into the office. Just as soon as he got "bad" there Mr. Reed put him out into the street. Bright was enraged by his rough treatment and threw a rock at the office building, not doing much damage. Officer Pea arrived upon the scene of action about this time and lodged the offender in jail.

HOW THE NEWS WAS RECEIVED

Large Crowds Assembled at Both Republican and Democratic Headquarters.

ENTHUSIASM WAS UNCORKED

Few Retired Until an Early Hour
This Morning, the Democrats
Leaving First.

Hundreds of yelling, cheering, shouting people assembled in various places in the city Tuesday evening, where election returns were received, and remained until the last vestige of doubt was removed concerning the victors in the national and State elections. Each bulletin was received with loud cries of delight from the members of the crowds—whose sentiments were given expression. Republicans and Democrats mingled good naturedly and few incidents, participated in by drunken rowdies, occurred to mar the occasion.

The Republicans got returns at headquarters and remained long after the Democrats closed up at the Kramer rink where they held fort.

The theaters and several stores posted bulletins at stated times and they were eagerly devoured by the anxious crowd.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudet offers a change of the picture program tonight, entitled "A Love Affair" a story of peasant life, quite interesting, and "His First Froek Coat, a perfect scream. The Rose Sisters conclude their engagement here tonight with a change of program. The last half of the week the management offers "The Bell Family," featuring "Little Grace," the youngest trapeze artist before the public today. Also more specially selected pictures which will be announced later.

The new film at the Grand tonight is entitled the "Reformatory," giving the life history of an orphan boy who steals and is sent to the Reformatory, from which he escapes. He is adopted by a wealthy man and becomes an honorable citizen. The vaudeville act, Nichols Bros., hoop rollers and jugglers, is of a very high order. The boys are 11 and 12 years of age and are able to perform remarkable feats in their specialty.

WOMEN, LOVELY WOMEN

"Fair Tresses Man's Imperial Race Ensnared," Says Pope.

The grandest of feminine attractions is a beautiful head of luxuriant hair sung its praises; artists have endeavored to portray it accurately, but have seldom succeeded.

Are you a woman?

Would you crown yourself with glorious hair? Would you add doubly to your present attractiveness?

Then go to the drug store of F. B. Johnson & Co. and ask for a bottle of Parisian Sage, the great hair tonic and beautifier. A large bottle costs but 50 cents, and in one week's time it will change harsh, lusterless, untidy hair into soft, silky and luxuriant hair.

Parisian Sage is fully guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to stop falling hair, cure dandruff and itching of the scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It kills the microbes, that's how it cures dandruff. It is a pleasant and invigorating hair dressing, does not dye the hair, and is not sticky or greasy.

"I have used Parisian Sage two weeks only, yet in that time I find my hair has wonderfully increased in beauty, thickness and luxuriance. But what surprised me most was the disappearance of all dandruff. It pleases me to recommend such an efficient remedy to all my friends. Gratefully yours, Mrs. Maud Hagar, 617 West 136th St., New York City."

For sale by F. B. Johnson & Co., or by express, all charges prepaid, from Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

DELAY OF MOVING SAVED MANY VOTES

Epidemic Which is so Common Just After the Election Will Follow.

TRAVEL A DISTANCE TO VOTE

Now that the election is over, there will be an epidemic of moving in this city and county. Many changes have been contemplated for weeks but were delayed to save votes as a move even within thirty days before election will lose the vote of the one moving.

A number moved yesterday immediately after casting their votes and others had their goods packed ready to move today. Election day determines the residence of a number of people, who, with their families, live one place, yet claim another as their home and return to vote, some traveling hundreds of miles to exercise the right of suffrage.

Judge Barnard Receives Handsome
Majority of Nearly Two Thousand Votes.

KUHN LOST IN THE SHUFFLE

Judge William O. Barnard of New Castle has been elected to Congress to represent the Sixth district, as the successor of James E. Watson. Barnard polled a very large vote in Wayne county, where in the earlier part of the campaign it was thought some dissatisfaction existed. Rush county gave the judge a handsome majority, while Decatur's Republican plurality for him was unusually small.

The following are the majorities of both Judge Barnard in the Republican counties and Rev. Kuhn in the Democratic counties:
